Above, 25 people died in the collapse of a church building reduced to rubble - some of the results of the most recent earthquake in Tachelik City, Myanmar.

In partnership with several missions, we help provide medicines, medical care and basic health information to people living in remote areas of SE Asia. Medicines of all kinds, doctors, nurses (when available) and use of medicines is shared freely in these camps - always in the name of Christ.

Left, members of the new "Fresher" Class (as they are called) at EBI (Eastern Bible Institute) in Yangon. President Joshua Leme reports a total enrollment of 184 this year, with students coming from all parts of Burma seeking Christian education.

Workers build a new bamboo dorm for female students attending Taunggyi Bible College in Central Burma. Long-time co-worker Manasseh Fish serves as President and reports 32 female & 34 male students. $1,000 will pay for this structure and provide needed beds, benches and desks for new students.

ACS team above had never been to this area of China before - and rejoiced to fellowship with local Christians and church leaders.

Moloshidi Valley in NE India

One of the most remote, distant, restricted areas in all of India is the Moloshidi Valley in Arunachal Pradesh State (circled). However, 7,000 Lisu Christians live in this valley! The Lisu Church of Christ at Shidi Village has about 1,000 members. In spite of its isolation from the outside world, Lisu Christians are able to hear half-hour gospel broadcasts in their own "mother tongue" every evening from Far East Broadcasting Company transmitters in Manila, Philippines.

These broadcasts were started by ACS ... are supported by Gospel Broadcasting Mission ... and are produced in the Gospel Recording Studios in Chiangmai, Thailand. Co-workers Ahdi Mark and his wife Tasanee serve as directors and have a staff of five producing the daily programs in Lisu and several other languages.

At the same time, people living here do have major health problems. Many are sick from Malaria, dysentery and other conditions. To get help, Lisu Missionary Philip Ngwazah who lives with his family in Itanagar City, petitioned IDES for $5,000, for medical supplies to treat these illnesses. The request was granted, and funds were sent - and supplies purchased. A graduate of Lakeview Christian Seminary in Chennai City, South India, and supported through ACS, Philip has had many years of experience serving in this section of India. He was able to purchase the needed medicines from a Pharmacy in Dibrugarh City, Assam, and to recruit two medical doctors to go with him. They moved the medicines by truck to Miao City, and hired Chakma porters to carry them for the eleven day hike on the rugged trails up the Noa Dehing River Valley to Moloshidi Valley.

After their safe arrival, medical camps were conducted in several areas of the Valley. This was an historic event since it was the first time medical doctors from India traveled here to deliver medicines and treat the sick. In addition, they gave basic training to local Christians on use of the medicines they were leaving with them following the clinics. A new DVD was produced by Philip and is available upon request. Write our ACS office to request a free copy. (ACS, 7577 Central Parke Blvd., Suite #104, Mason, OH 45040.)

SPECIAL REQUEST: Please pray for the Miao Bible Institute in Moloshidi Valley. The teachers are: Ahpu Barnabas, Stephen Fish and Nathaney Ngwazah. This school is surrounded by 113 different tribal groups - many of them un-reached with the Gospel. The goal of the Bible Institute is to convert and train many of these tribal members and enable them to then serve as evangelists to their own people. Your partnership with ACS helps train up men like these in many parts of SE Asia, and helps share the Gospel in the far corners of the world and meet a wide variety of physical needs. On behalf of those who serve and those served, Thank You.
